

"View From My Window" by Pastor Everhart

Driver's education isn't working. The other day I'm driving down the street as a car inches forward from a street on my right. His car jerks forward then stops over and over again. I've got the sense that he wants to pull out but sees that I have the right of way. I proceed slowly not knowing what he's going to do. Finally I get close enough that I'm confident he's going to stay put because only a fool would have waited this long then put both of us in danger by cutting it so close. Yep, you guessed it, he did it. Thanks to my superior driving skills (or maybe it was the grace of God) an accident was avoided. The next day my wife and I are traveling through a residential neighborhood along Wilson Avenue in Hanover (25 mph speed limit; I'm doing 30). A young lady zips past me and cuts in front of me just as another car is coming in the opposite direction. I can't imagine how satisfying it must be to get in front of my car. Several times now it has happened that I've followed drivers south on Rt 194 from East Berlin to Abbottstown where the speed limit is 55 mph but they choose to drive 40-45 mph. Once we get past the circle and the speed limit changes to 40 mph they take off! Is something going on that no one has told me about? Is it opposite day or April fool's month? Wait until its dangerous then pull out, pass in no passing zones, go slow in higher speed zones and fast in slower ones... It's a sign of the times: people are lovers of themselves, boastful, proud, arrogant, self-centered... You better be ready to meet Jesus because of the way everybody's driving these days!
