THE VIEW FROM MY WINDOW

I've learned that, in the spring, just because the weatherman says its going to be sunny & 70 degrees doesn't mean you should leave the house at 7am dressed like it's 70 degrees & sunny. If you do you might shiver until about 2 in the afternoon. You might also begin to hate your meteorologist.

What is & what will be are often two very different sets of circumstances. This principle is very evident in church: the church is always becoming something other than what it is right now. We are not yet what we will be or should be. If we will – as today's text urges us – be completely humble, gentle, patient, bearing one another's burdens in love, then we are on the right track. However, don't expect the church to be "all that" just yet. It's a good place to worship & meet great people, but it's not a perfect place (thus the need for humility, patience, etc.). Enjoy our progress, forgive our failures, & look forward to all of us improving ... but don't be surprised if it occasionally gets a little chilly on our way to a perfect afternoon.
