THE VIEW FROM MY WINDOW

The Pirates had a bit of a losing streak largely due to poor pitching. With their ace on the disabled list they looked to their farm team in Indianapolis for help, & received Chad Kuhl to pitch against the league's best: Los Angeles Dodgers Clayton Kershaw. It was Chad's first appearance in a major league game! He gave up a hit & two walks in the 1st inning but escaped without giving up a run. After striking out against Kershaw, the crowd gave him a standing ovation (led by his mom) because he fouled off a number of pitches, which ran up Kershaw's pitch count. Later he tagged out a runner at the plate & leapt into the air pumping his fist, once again bringing the home crowd to their feet. He & the Pirates won the game 4-3. The team went on to win something like 10 of their next 12 games.

No one expected Chad to win that game except Chad & maybe his mom. The young man came to the ballpark with two things in his belly: butterflies & fire. He'd spent his whole life preparing for this moment & he was ready. As believers we've been spending our time preparing to serve the Lord.

It's time to take the field. Now fight.
