THE VIEW FROM MY WINDOW

It was Sunday afternoon & the heat index was between 100 & 110 degrees. Usually I take my grandson for a walk to the park on Sunday afternoons but this was no usual afternoon. Plan B was to set up the sprinkler in the front yard. 100 degrees just doesn't feel all that hot when you're soaking wet. However, the problem with being soaked is that you must somehow reenter your house without upsetting Memaw. Grandpa just might get away with it but there's nothing subtle about a wet 3-year-old. Not that the 3-year-old would be the one taking the heat, mind you.

Standing there dripping wet, the thought struck me that a walk to the park would help us drip dry. By the time we were done at the park we were nearly dry but there was that walk back home as the sun blazed in the sky. Thanks to a water fountain we applied a new layer of moisture before heading home. Even our Yorkie voluntarily frolicked in a sprinkler on the walk back! Well, when you're not entertaining a 3-yr-old you should use Godly wisdom to guide your every step.
