The View From My Window
WITH PASTOR JOEL

Recently, I spent half my morning trying to adjust an order I'd made online. I used the site's online chat option. On my 1st attempt I was customer #1 in the queue. Tia told me I needed to call an 877 number to get an account number that I could use on live chat. That phone number put me through to a rep in India. She told me to go to the store website & walked me through applying for the account number. Securing that number I went back to live chat; this time as customer #4 in the queue. Trevor put me on hold, then told me I would have to cancel my order & place a new one or call my local store directly. I was kicked off live chat before I could ask which store he was referring to (I live near two). Going back on live chat I was customer #8 ...

It's often easier to do something for someone than to wait for someone. When you submit your life to Christ for service in His Kingdom you will often find yourself being inconvenienced. Those moments provide you with a wonderful opportunity to build patience, endurance & maturity. Don't think God doesn't know how to run His Kingdom just because you have to spend some time on hold! It's all part of the plan.
